

Use our buying power to save money, time and trouble.

Superior Homes is an excellent source of materials for your next building project

You may know Superior Homes as a manufacturer of high quality System-Built homes and buildings. But we're also a great place for you to buy everything you need for projects of any magnitude.

Our large volume of purchases and membership in an industry buying co-op allow us to direct-purchase materials at deep discounts. So deep, that we can mark them up a little and sell them to other builders at extremely competitive prices.

In addition to great prices, there are other ways we can help you, from start to finish.

In addition to favorable pricing, Superior Homes can also offer you the following services:

Design help and troubleshooting

Our design team can look at your plans to help you make improvements, avoid problems and maximize efficiencies. Cad/Cam programs reduce waste and help you improve your bottom line.

Materials projection and estimating

Once plans are reviewed, we will prepare a comprehensive and accurate list of materials needed including quantities, pricing and delivery options. You won't under-buy or over-buy for your projects.

Direct shipping advantages

Your materials will come to you directly from the supplier, which eliminates double handling, large dealer markups and costly delays. In addition, less handling will mean less damage to materials delivered to your site.

Coordinated material delivery and logistical management

Our customer service desk will ensure that materials are delivered on time, and in a logical sequence to increase your efficiency. This will help manage expenses and keep material from sitting outside until it's needed. We can manage this process for one house, or several, simultaneously.

Unlimited selections and options

We can find virtually all types and styles of materials, including speciality and custom items that may not be readily available to you locally.

As you can see, Superior Homes can be much more than a supplier of well-priced lumber. We can be a helpful partner to builders of all sizes. If this sounds good, let's talk about what we can do for you.
